QUALITY NEW ZEALAND BEEF & LAMB

There's no prouder province in New Zealand than Canterbury, and it's not just down to the beauty of its snow clad peaks, lakes and majestic rivers. Canterbury has long been one of the great food producing regions in this country, thanks to its unique mix of nature's gifts and smart farming.

Rich, river-drained soils and a mild climate with plenty of sunshine allow grass to grow all year round, so flock and herd are free to graze throughout the seasons.

The end result is quality meat from healthy, happy animals that have lived the way nature intended.

Harnessing these natural advantages are our farmers. For decade after decade they've bred quality livestock, to deliver some of the best-tasting meat in the world.

YOUR ALL-ROUND BEST CHOICE

There are many reasons why Canterbury beef and lamb is so good:

- Grass-fed for a naturally-delicious, full flavour and fine texture
- Pure, free-range meat with no preservatives or additives of any kind
- Lean and highly nutritious
- Management of stock from procurement, to processing, to plate
- Guaranteed food safety standards, USDA and EU approved
- Year-round supply
- Available frozen or chilled
- Halal certified.

Our grass-fed beef and lamb has measurable health benefits:

- ‘Power pack’ of nutrients contributing to optimal health as part of a balanced diet and active lifestyle
- One of the best sources of iron
- Vital source of protein, B vitamins, essential minerals and zinc
